THE

Publishers' Trade-List Annual

For 1882 (Tenth Year)

WILL BE A LARGE OCTAVO OF ABOUT 2000 PAGES, CONTAINING, AS USUAL:

The Publishers' Trade-Lists for 1882. These are the latest Catalogues of American Publishers, arranged alphabetically by the names of the publishers.

The Educational Catalogue for 1882 (thirteenth year). This Catalogue, which is used by the entire trade and educational interest as the most complete and reliable reference-list of School-Books, is prepared on the same plan as last year, viz.: (1) arrangement on the "dictionary plan," combining a Finding-List for the trade and a Subject Catalogue for the use of schools; (2) Trade-list or wholesale price, and mailing or retail price, in parallel columns.

THE ADDITIONAL REFERENCE FEATURES, THIS YEAR, WILL BE

Annotated List of the Books of the Year. A complete reprint of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY full title Records (inclusive of all the descriptive notes) from July 2, 1881, to June 30, 1882.

Complete Index to the Books of the Year. In order to facilitate reference to the above list, it will be accompanied by a full index by which every book on record can be found, whether it is looked for under author, title, or subject. Numerous cross-references will also be added to facilitate the finding of books on similar subjects.

The substitution of the above lists, in place of the former short title reference lists, cannot but prove profitable both to publishers and booksellers. For every reference will place the bookseller or consulting bookbuyer in immediate possession not only of the full title, inclusive of the full name of the publisher, place of publication, size, number of pages, binding, etc., but in most cases also of the data relating to the character or contents of the book. In fact, all this information being within easy reach, and actually being forced upon any one who is consulting the list, this plan will materially add to the knowledge of books, particularly among those who directly deal with the public. On the other hand, the bookbuyer receiving much more satisfactory information than could be given from the former short title reference lists, is surer to make his purchase than when, as is so often the case, his mind is left in doubt, for want of data. The original record of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY being thus made permanently accessible, an annual catalogue is presented to the trade, the practical value of which can scarcely be over-estimated.

The above Lists, all requiring unusual labor and expense, present in their combination so perfect a working tool as has never been presented to the trade of any other country. It may be justly claimed that these special trade helps alone will make the ANNUAL indispensable to every one who has any interest in the purchase and sale of books.

NOTES IN SEASON.

R. WORTHINGTON will issue shortly Mr. Swinburne's new volume of poems, "Tristan of Lyonesse."

HENRY HOLT & CO. issue this week in the Leisure Hour series G. H. Hollister's American novel, "Kinley Hollow," which gives some characteristic pictures of the results of Calvinism in New England.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS will issue at once a work of some interest, entitled "History of the Colored People in America from 1619 to 1880; Negroes as Slaves, as Soldiers, and as Citizens," by the Hon. George W. Williams, of Cincinnati, O.

D. APPLETON & CO. publish this week E. Hospitalier's important volume on "The Modern Applications of Electricity," translated and enlarged by Dr. Julius Maier. They have also ready a striking picture of life in Asia entitled "Norodom, King of Cambodia," by Frank McGloin.

P. BLAKISTON, SON & CO. have now ready "Buzzard on Nervous Diseases," previously announced. It makes an exhaustive work of nearly five hundred pages. They have also ready the second revised edition of Higgins' "Hand-book of Ophthalmic Practice," a valuable book for the practitioner's ready reference.

E. & F. N. SPON announce as just ready No. 1 of their "Useful Tables for Engineers and Architects." It is devoted to "Scantling and Beams," and is arranged and compiled by J. E. Hilton. They also issue the twenty-first edition, revised and enlarged, of Molesworth's "Pocket Book of Useful Formulæ and Memoranda for Civil and Mechanical Engineering."

JOHN WILEY & SONS have published an important work for mill-owners, underwriters, architects, engineers, etc., entitled "Fire Protection of Mills," by C. J. H. Woodbury. The volumes contain full information as to proper fire protection of mills, the construction of floors, etc., with chapters on electric lighting, and a number of other subjects of value to those for whom the book is intended.

FUNK & WAGNALLS have in press an important work known as the "Schaff-Herzog Encyclopædia of Religious Knowledge." This encyclopædia will give in alphabetical order a summary of the most important information in all branches of religious and moral knowledge—exegetical, historical, biographical, doctrinal, and practical. The work is based upon the "Real-Encyklopädie" of Dr. Herzog, and is under the editorial supervision of Dr. Philip Schaff. It will be in three volumes and will be sold by subscription.

PORTER & COATES will shortly issue, besides Cook's "England, Picturesque and Descriptive," noted in our last issue, a number of entertaining and valuable books. Among these may be mentioned an illustrated poem by Florence Baily, "Gleanings from the Fields of Life," a very attractive gift-book, with colored plates, engraved text, and ornamental initial letters. "The Deserted Village," with 35 engravings, from designs by Hammatt Billings, will be published in the same style as "The Bells," issued last year by this house. Boys will welcome "Ben's Nugget; or, A Boy's Search for Fortune," a new book by Horatio Alger, Jr., the concluding volume of the Pacific series.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT & CO. have just issued "The Mystery of Godliness," by H. G. Kern, in which the author recounts the "mysteries" which have beset him, and reports his solution of them, or at least his investigation of their worst disturbance. They have also published "Astronomy for Schools and General Readers," by Isaac Sharpless, Professor of Mathematics and Astronomy, Haverford College, and Prof. C. M. Phillips, Principal State Normal School, West Chester, Pa. The special effort of the authors has been to render clear the abstruse points in the science, to distinguish between theories and established facts, while mere speculations are altogether excluded. The volume is handsomely gotten up, and well illustrated.

CASSELL, PETTER, GALPIN & CO. have just ready an important work, specially noticeable for the fact that though bearing the imprint of a London house it is distinctively an American book—written, printed, indexed, and bound in this country. It will have a value to all students of American political history. It is entitled the "Constitutional History and Political Developments of the United States," and is from the pen of Simon Sterne, a well-known member of the New York bar. It is exhaustive, authentic, and popular, and suitable alike for the jurist and student. The work treats of the history of the Articles of Confederation, the Constitution and the various departments of the government, as also of the political division of parties from Washington's administration to our own time. The volume is a low-priced 12mo, and has a full and careful index prepared by Mr. L. E. Jones.

CORRECTION.—Our attention has been called to an oversight by which the two American editions of Skeat's etymological dictionaries have been given in the Educational Catalogue (page 73) under the identic short title, "Etymological Dictionary." In order to avoid future misunderstandings, subscribers will do well to make the correction in their reference copy by adding the word "concise" to the Harper edition. Macmillan's edition is "a cheap edition without abridgment." Harper's, although not a mere "abridgment," but entirely rewritten by the author, is, as the title implies, a compendious hand-book. For further particulars see THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, May 27 (p. 546).

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

In this list, the titles in brevier are direct transcriptions from books actually received, according to the rule of the American Library Association; those in nonpareil are from the best information available, and will be repeated in brevier when the book is received for registry.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard · S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.) D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights. Where figure instead of letter symbols are used, the record is from publisher's designation, and not measurement.

Imported books are marked with an asterisk; authors' and subscription books, or books published at net prices, with two asterisks; educational books published at "wholesale" prices, with a dagger.

Alden, Mrs. Isabella M. ["Pansy."] Mrs. Solomon Smith looking on. Bost., D. Lothrop & Co., [1882]. 3–456 p. 1 il. D. cl., $1.50.

Mrs. Solomon Smith was an old lady who overlooked no opportunity for doing good; her experience and observations are both instructive and amusing; she is the central figure of a very pretty domestic story.

Aristotle's psychology, in Greek and English, with introduction and notes, by Edwin Wallace. N. Y., Macmillan, 1882. 128+327 p. 8°. net, $6.

Babyland [1882]. Bost., D. Lothrop & Co., [1882]. 3–102 p. il. sq. O. cl., $1; bds., 75 c.

Béowulf; ed. from M. Heyne, by Ja. Albert Harrison. Pt. 1: Text. Bost., Ginn, Heath & Co., 1882. 6+101 p. D. pap., net, 40 c.

The present work, carefully edited from Heyne's fourth edition (Paderborn, 1879), is designed primarily for college classes in Anglo-Saxon rather than for independent investigators or for seekers after a restored or ideal text. A glossary, translated by the editor and Prof. Robert Sharp, will soon follow the text as here presented.

Boisen, Hermann B. Preparatory book of German prose; with copious notes. Bost., Ginn, Heath & Co., 1882. 8+216 p. D. (Martha's Vineyard ser. of text-books.) cl., net, $1.

The reading matter in this volume is selected from the best German writers; it is carefully graded, and in many cases where difficult expressions and constructions appeared in the original text, considerably simplified. The notes are published in a separate pamphlet, to obviate the inconvenience of frequent reference to the end of the book.

Buzzard, T:, M.D. Clinical lectures on diseases of the nervous system. Phil., P. Blakiston, Son & Co., 1882. 16+466 p. 8°. cl., $5.

Dawson, S. E. Copyright in books: an insight into its origin, and an account of the present state of the law in Canada: a lecture; being one of the occasional lectures delivered before the Law School of Bishop's College at Sherbrooke, P. Q., Thursday, Jan. 26, '82. Montreal, Dawson Bros., 1882. 40 p. O. pap., 75c.

Half of this pamphlet is taken up with an interesting account of the origin of copyright in books; the remainder is devoted to the present condition of copyright in Canada as interpreted by the copyright act of 1875; the author explains the conditions of this act and in what way it clashes with the Imperial act of 1842, granted in England, and in force in all parts of the British dominions. It is thus explained how Mark Twain lost his copyright in Canada, and obtained it in England. Mr. Dawson proposes a scheme of royalties to authors, which seems very reasonable, to meet the impracticable and abortive act of 1872.

Donaldson, S. Ja., M.D. Contributions to practical gynecology: read before the New York Medico-Chirurgical Soc. J. H. Vail & Co., 1882. 2+134 p. il. O. cl., $1.50; pap., $1.25.

Edwardes, Annie. A ball-room repentance. N. Y., G: Munro, 1882. 47 p. Q. (Seaside lib., no. 1351.) pap., 20 c.

The same novel is published by G: P. Putnam's Sons under the title of "At the eleventh hour." See notice, Weekly Record, P. W., July 29, '82 [550].

Eiloart, Mrs. C. J. My Lady Clare: a novel. N. Y., G: Munro, 1882. 48 p. Q. (Seaside lib., no. 1341.) pap., 20 c.

Godding, W. W., M.D. Two hard cases: sketches from a physician's portfolio. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1882. 257 p. T. cl., $1.25.

A study of two psychological problems—a young man of Lowell, Mass., who came under Dr. Godding's care, and the notorious Guiteau. The doctor, who is the superintendent of the government asylum for the insane in Washington, evidently considered both subjects irresponsible.

Graff, J: Franklin. ["Graybeard."] Graybeard's Colorado; or, notes on the Centennial State; describing a trip from Philadelphia to Denver and back, in the autumn and winter of 1881–'82. Phil., J. B. Lippincott & Co., 1882. 90 p. O. cl., 75 c.

The contents of this volume appeared in the form of letters in The Philadelphia Press during the autumn and winter of 1881–'82. They are written with enthusiasm, and give a very vivid picture of the present condition of the West, its public improvements, mineral developments and wealth, and the character, pursuits, and progress of its people.

Heard, Franklin Fiske. A concise treatise on the principles of equity pleading, with precedents. Bost., Soule & Bugbee, 1882. 12+217 p. O. cl., $2.50; shp., $3.

The writer describes in graphic terms the ancient grandeur of Cambodia, and goes into some exposition of the Buddhist religion.

Treat, Mrs. Mary. Injurious insects of the farm and garden. N. Y., The Orange Judd Co., 1882. 288 p. il. D. cl., $2.

The invasions of insect enemies are so sudden that the standard works of a few years ago usually fail to give any information about the injurious insects of the present day. Indeed, our most useful knowledge as to the insects now most injurious to our crops, is contained in the reports of Prof. C. V. Riley, U. S. Entomologist. Mrs. Treat has gathered the most important of these scattered materials and presented them in a condensed form in the present work. She has also given, in several cases, the results of her own observations. The work is especially valuable for its abundant illustrations. With insects, a good engraving is far more useful than a detailed description, and in view of this fact, the publishers have introduced illustrations of the insects, in their various stages, wherever it could be done with advantage. The work gives a popular account of those insects most injurious to the cultivator, and suggests the best known agents for their extermination.

The Publishers' Weekly.

AUGUST 5, 1882.

PUBLISHERS are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry.

The trade are invited to send "Communications" to the editor on any topic of interest to the trade, and as to which an interchange of opinion is desirable. Also, matter for "Notes and Queries," gratefully received.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

A STRIKING illustration of improper application of those trade margins which are necessary to induce industry and capacity to invest the bulk of their capital and labor in the book business, is the reversed bazaar method adopted by certain publishers of periodicals, namely: to offer their journals free, or at a "grand" reduction, to any one remitting the publisher's price for any book he may desire. (We have a case before us where a book is offered $2 below the original price, and the journal free for one year!) It is a practice injurious to all concerned, even to the one unfortunate who finds himself driven to resort to this desperate trick, for is it not an open concession that his journal cannot stand on its own merit, and that people are not expected to take it unless they can get it as a sort of free wrapper? This suicidal practice would be a benefit to the community were it not for the injury this desperado is doing to others. He cannot obtain the books from the publishers or jobbers without "just a bit" demoralizing them, as they in their heart must know that in giving an outsider the benefit of the trade margin they are injuring the trade to whom it belongs; he necessarily also demoralizes the public, for either he gives the value he promises or he does not, hence either deceives it or gets it into the ways of not fully paying for value received. The injury to the bookseller is, as usual, the most palpable. The injury to the publisher being one rather of the future than of the present, which is reconciled by the fresh sale, is not so conspicuous. But there can be no policy more shortsighted. The result is unavoidable. The books, passing out of the book trade into the hands of Tom, Dick, and Harry, not for the ends of honest bookselling, but as the means to serve the tricks of other trades, will be used by Tom, Dick, and Harry just so long as they retain their baiting power. This quality will decrease in the same proportion in which the perverting of books into bait will be on the increase. Unfortunately while this beautiful process is taking its natural course, the book trade may be so weakening that it is the publisher who finally must foot the bill. To the comfort of the people, it may be said that this selling books to any one, and at any price, will by and by give them books even at lower prices than what they now pay for the bait. If people only could be brought to believe, and be made happy in the satisfaction that they actually pay less for those books than in equity they should! But nothing is more cheapening than being handled by the cheap Johns, and nothing gives less satisfaction after the excitement of the "bargain" is over than the second thought that perhaps it was, after all, no bargain.

THE long-debated question, "Who wrote Shakespeare?" has, at least as to his "chief" works, been settled in a quiet way by the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY. It is not the question of the "Bacon Shakspere" or the "William Shakespeare," but of the "Rossetti Shakspeare," and this "Rossetti Shakspeare," "written chiefly," parenthetically remarks the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, by Arthur Gilman, has been much in demand by the ordinary public as by savants." The WEEKLY says many strange things in a very strange manner, but it surely will never be able to surpass this.

UNIFORM EDITIONS.

"How few American authors," writes "Templeton" from Boston to the Hartford Courant, "appear in uniform editions! Looking over the last volume of the edition of Bret Harte, which Houghton, Mifflin & Co. have just issued, I am reminded of this. We have here a complete and very convenient as well as handsome edition of Mr. Harte's stories, poems, and essays. It is pleasant to see them together on the library shelves, and it is a great advantage to get at them in this way instead of being called to search through toward a dozen volumes for some favorite or desired piece. This is an honor that is not often paid an author before his death, and Bret Harte should be thankful for receiving it. There is no uniform edition of Mrs. Stowe's writings, though there ought to be. The question of copyright stands in the way of this. She has had four different publishers in Boston and one in New York. Miss Alcott has fared better. She has had practically only one publisher, and a very tasteful one. Mr. Howells's writings are scattered about in a diversified form. So are Henry James's. It is the same with the English writers where copyright does not stand in the way. We had for years to go to Europe to get a complete edition of Thackeray in presentable shape, and for a long time the Harpers would neither make one themselves nor let any one else make it. The first uniform edition of George Eliot was issued in Boston, and caused a big quarrel between the Osgoods and the Harpers. Charles Reade's novels were got together under similar circumstances. The Harpers began to publish Wilkie Collins in uniform volumes, but have stopped—perhaps because they think the books are not worth it. They have done better with William Black, to whom they give a good library edition. They ought to give one to R. D. Blackmore, too, whose best novels have never been published in this country except in pamphlet form. Mr. Henry Holt has done a little better with Thomas Hardy's books, the pages of his editions being uniform in size, though the styles of binding vary. Blackmore and Hardy seem to me to be worthy of library preservation, the former for his poetic style, picturesque manner, and the genuine air of romance that pervades his stories; the latter for the originality of his books, in which there is something almost unique. A uniform edition of Anthony Trollope in a library would be a curiosity. It would fill more than forty volumes of the size of this Bret Harte edition. Trollope is the most voluminous of modern writers of fiction (or of any others out of Spain), and he seems in a good way to double his books before he dies. The singular thing is that he is now as likely to write a good book as he ever was. Some of his last are among his best books, and his best books are very good indeed. I should say that Mrs. Oliphant follows him the nearest in the number of books of any writer of our day. We ought to have uniform editions of every writer who is worth reading a second time, or worth keeping for another generation of readers, though in the case of Trollope perhaps a selection would be sufficient."

OBITUARY.

ALFRED J. FISHER.

ONE of the best known and most successful men in his branch of the trade, Mr. Alfred J. Fisher, died suddenly at Craryville on the Hudson on Wednesday, July 26. Mr. Fisher was born in Philadelphia in 1842, but has been a manufacturer of valentines and a publisher of colored toy-books for children in this city for nearly 20 years—a business which he conducted with great success. He was one of the first to introduce to the trade what were alleged to be comic valentines, and found for them a ready market. In January last Mr. Fisher fell down the hatchway of the building at No. 24 Vesey Street, in which his manufactory is situated, and received injuries which confined him to his house, at No. 148 Summit Street, Brooklyn, for several weeks. Before he was really able to do so, and against the advice of his physicians, he, a few weeks since, returned to the management of his business. A relapse followed, and he was again confined to his house. His friends thought that his brain had been affected by his injuries, but that his physicians denied. On the 22d ult. he went to Craryville, hoping to recover his health there. On the 26th ult. his friends received word from Mrs. Fisher that her husband was getting along nicely, and nothing more was heard from him until the receipt, late on the same day, of a telegram announcing his death.

CUES TO TIMELY TOPICS.

HYMNOLOGY.—The Independent is publishing a series of "Hymn Notes."

CHURCH AND SUNDAY-SCHOOL SINGING.—The Sunday-School Times, July 8 and 15, gives reviews of the new singing books of the season.

CONTEMPORARY LITERATURE.—There is an excellent survey of American, British, and Continental literature, in Appletons' Annual Cyclopædia for 1881.

EMERSON.—The Literary World for July 15 contains "An Emerson Concordance, being a Partial Index to Familiar Passages in his Poems," by W. S. Kennedy.

ECONOMIC BOTANY.—"Vegetable Technology: a Contribution toward a Bibliography of Economic Botany," by B. D. Jackson, is a companion volume to Mr. Jackson's equally laborious and valuable "Guide to the Literature of Botany."

EGYPTIAN HIEROGLYPHS.—The Library of Cornell University, No. 2, contains a desirable account of the apparatus—grammars, texts, dictionaries, and reference works—for the study of the Egyptian hieroglyphs.

WORKS OF REFERENCE FOR PHARMACEUTISTS.—The Druggists' Circular for August prints P. W. Bedford's paper on "Self-Education for Young Pharmacists," in which are recommended a number of important books for study.

MATHEMATICS.—The Library of Cornell University, No. 2, gives seventeen pages of classified titles of works relating to mathematics, covering so far about one eighth of the so-called Kelly Mathematical Collection of the Library.

FOREIGNERS IN ENGLAND.—The June number of the Bibliographer contains an interesting list, by Edward Smith, of books of travel written by "Foreigners in England," which is disfigured, however, by some ugly misprints.—Monthly Notes of the Lib. Assoc. of the U. K.

SHAKESPEARIANA.—Mr. Wm. J. Rolfe publishes in the Literary World for July 15, a list of the publications of the new Shakspere Society. Mr. W. H. Wyman has issued a "Bibliography of the Bacon-Shakespeare Literature" in an eight-page pamphlet, containing 63 titles in all.

BICENTENNIAL READING.—The July Bulletin of the Library Company of Philadelphia contains under the above heading, besides the general references, special ones to the Early Account of the Country; Swedes and Dutch on the Delaware; William Penn; The Grant and Settlement of Pennsylvania; Contemporary Tracts; Histories; Landing of Penn; Essays, etc., on Special Subjects. The references have been prepared by F. D. Stone, Librarian of the Historical Society.

ENGLISH BOOKS.—The third volume of Sampson Low's English Catalogue of Books, an alphabetical list of works published in the United Kingdom, and of the principal works published in America, with the dates of publication, indication of size, price, edition, and publisher's name, is just ready. The volume comprises the books published from January, 1872, to December, 1880. Price, bound in half morocco, £2.2s. It "goes without saying" that every well-appointed book-store and library must have it.

CRITICISM OF DICKENS.—The Literary World in reply to an inquiry states: "Any leading review or magazine, English or American, for the last six months of 1870, and for 1871 and '72, would be almost certain to contain critical articles on Dickens and his works. In particular see 'Dickens and Thackeray compared,' by D. C. Brooks, North Am. Rev., 92, 488; 'Dombey and Son,' by E. P. Whipple, Do., 69, 383; 'American Notes,' by C. C. Felton, Do., 56, 212; 58, 225; 'Charles Dickens,' by C. E. Norton, Do., 106, 691; 'American Notes,' Harper's M., 36, 119; Lippincott's M. 11, 124; 13, 517; the Contemporary Rev. for February, 1869, and the Westminster Rev. for July, 1864, and April, 1865."

GERMAN BOOKS.—Mr. K. A. Linderfelt, librarian of the Milwaukee Public Library, has sent us a copy of his new classified catalogue of German books in the library, a work which reflects much credit on the compiler. The classification is admirably adapted to the bulk of the books, and the system of numbers adopted admits shelf additions without disturbing the class arrangement in the library. The arrangement under the classes is alphabetical by authors, and under the sections of Fiction and Drama by titles as well as by authors. A general alphabet of authors is prefixed, so that every possible finding facility is given. The selection is so discriminate and representative that the catalogue may prove also for other libraries a useful work of reference.

ROBERT BROWNING.—The Browning Society is certainly in luck with its work during its first year. Not only has it procured the starting of eight other prosperous Browning societies or clubs, but it has produced a "Browning Bibliography" (by Mr. Furnivall), and several excellent papers on the poet's works; it has assured the publication of a volume of "Stories from Browning" (by Mr. F. May Holland), the compilation of a "Browning Primer" (by Mr. Sutherland Orr), and of a "Lexicon of Browning Allusions" (by the Rev. F. Millson); and now one of its members, Mr. T. J. Wise, comes forward and undertakes to compile for it a "Browning Concordance," after the plan of Mr. D. Barron Brightwell's excellent "Tennyson Concordance." Seeing that the society was not really under way till last October, it can show a fair "log" for its seven months' run.—Academy.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

MR. G. BARNETT SMITH is engaged in writing a "Life of Channing."

MR. ANTHONY TROLLOPE is preparing a biography of Lord Palmerston.

MISS CONSTANCE FENIMORE WOOLSON is at Baden Baden, where she is engaged in completing a new novel.

MRS. LYNN LINTON has nearly completed a new novel called "Ione." The scene is laid partly in England, partly at Palermo. Mrs. Linton, who, we are glad to hear, has quite recovered from her severe illness, is spending the summer in England.

MR. T. B. ALDRICH will return in November with fresh literary material, including notes for free-hand sketches of a great Russian fair.

MR. JOHN H. INGRAM, the biographer of Poe, is to be the editor of a new and promising series of monographs on the English Women of Letters.

MRS. ELLEN W. O. KIRK, the wife of the historian and editor of Lippincott's Magazine, is spoken of as the author of the Round Robin novel, entitled "A Lesson in Love."

MR. FRANK D. MILLET, the well-known artist and war correspondent of the London Daily News, is in Sweden with Mr. Thule de Thulstrup, preparing some articles for Harper's Magazine.

IT is reported, says the New York Tribune, "that Mr. F. H. Underwood's biography of Whittier has been undertaken at the request of the poet. The same writer will also prepare a biography of Dr. Holmes, the latter having given his assent to the project."

MR. W. D. HOWELLS has sailed for his protracted trip abroad. He will be absent at least a year. He has already begun a new novel, it is said, which he proposes to complete while abroad; and for this the Century Magazine people have spoken, so that it will first appear there.

MR. HENRY ADAMS is preparing the volume on John Randolph for the American Statesman series. Prof. W. G. Sumner is at work upon Andrew Jackson, while S. H. Gay has taken James Madison, President Gilman, James Monroe; and Mr. Carl Schurz, Henry Clay; Albert Gallatin has fallen to the lot of J. A. Stevens, and Daniel Webster to Mr. Henry Cabot Lodge.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

The Penn Monthly, we regret to learn, has ceased its publication with the issue of the July number.

La Revue Artistique, a weekly publication devoted to the interests of artists, amateurs, and buyers, has just been started in France.

A NEW periodical entitled Notes, Queries, and Answers, has recently been published by S. C. & L. M. Gould, Manchester, N. H. It is edited by Prof. N. B. Webster, of Norfolk, Va.

Le Livre for July contains, among other valuable features, the first of a series of articles by S. Blondel on the writer's tools, and in the first place concerning the pencil, of which the earliest mention, he says, is in a printed book, "De Rerum fossilium Figuris" of the year 1565. Colored crayons we owe to Jacques Conté, a French chemist commissioned by the Revolutionary Committee of Public Safety to supply the loss of the English article when war had interrupted commerce. To this day, however, France has neither plumbago nor cedar-wood for making lead-pencils, and is obliged to import these essential materials. Lamartine, says M. Blondel, always used a pencil in composing, for fluency's sake.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

MR. CHARLES F. RICHARDSON, editor of Good Literature, has accepted the professorship of English literature at Dartmouth College. The college may be congratulated in having been fortunate enough to secure "the right man for the right place."

TOWNSEND MACCOUN announces the publication of a series of standard classics under the general title of "MacCoun's Latin and Greek Texts." The initial volumes of the series will be ready in the fall, and will be "Homer's Iliad" and "Horace."

JAMES R. OSGOOD & CO. have in press Lieutenant Danenhower's "Narrative of the Jeannette Expedition," revised and augmented from the original newspaper report. It will be illustrated with the author's portrait, a picture of the Jeannette, a chart of her cruise, etc.

WILLIAM R. JENKINS, New York, has made arrangements with Prof. W. Williams, of Edinburgh, and will hereafter publish in America his well-known works on veterinary medicine and surgery. A new edition of the "Veterinary Medicine," carefully revised and considerably enlarged, will be issued in the fall.

CASSELL, PETTER, GALPIN & CO. will publish in October "The United States Art Directory and Year-Book." The book is designed to be a guide for artists, art students, travellers, etc., and will contain a great amount of valuable information concerning the art schools, art museums, and other public collections of works of art, art clubs, and art societies throughout the United States; a list of the exhibitions to be held during the coming season; notices of American artists deceased during the past year; a list of art publications issued during the same period; addresses of all the recognized artists of the United States, together with a variety of other facts interesting to those who are in any way connected with the fine arts. It will be issued under the editorial supervision of Mr. S. R. Koehler, the well-known editor of the late American Art Review.

JAMES J. CHAPMAN, Washington, D. C., announces that he will have ready about August 12, McPherson's "Hand-book of Politics for 1882." This volume, which has been prepared by Hon. Edward McPherson, Clerk of the House of Representatives of the United States, will contain a record of the important political facts which have occurred from July 1, 1880, to July 31, 1882. The record will cover all the votes in Congress, and the action of the President upon the Chinese, the Mormon, and the Geneva Award Questions; upon tariff and internal revenue taxation; upon every phase of the banking question; the principal decisions of the United States Supreme Court of that period; upon apportionment; the liquor traffic; women's rights as citizens; education; the electoral count; inter-state commerce, etc., etc.; with tables showing voting population, and population in each State, the condition of public debt, national banks, revenues, expenditures, etc.

CROSBY, LOCKWOOD & CO., London, announce the following: "Practical Organ-Building," by W. E. Dickson; "The Details of Machinery, Comprising Instructions for the Execution of Various Works in Iron in the Fitting Shop, Foundry, and Boiler Yard," by Francis Campin, C.E.

GRIFFITH & FARRAN will publish immediately, under the title of "Talks about Science," a collection of popular lectures on scientific subjects by the late Thomas Dunman. It will be prefaced by a brief biographical sketch by Mr. Charles Welsh.

A BELGIAN bibliophile, who adopts the nom de guerre of Ch. de Lovenjoul, but whose real name is understood to be de Spoelberch, has published with M. Quantin, Paris, a curious little pamphlet intended to be introductory to a history of the works of Théophile Gautier.

A CHEAP but well-printed series of little books is being published at Paris by M. Léopold Cerf under the title of Nouvelle Collection Illustrée. Each is an original work by a writer of repute, containing about 160 pages, and the price is only one franc a volume. One of the three that have already appeared is an historical sketch of English literature, by M. Léon Boucher, of Besançon, and among the announcements are "Les Races Humaines," by M. Abel Hovelacque; "Les Basques et le Pays Basque," by M. Julien Vinson; and "L'Espagne des Goths et des Arabes," by M. Léon Geley.

THE RIVINGTONS' "Annual Register" for 1881, just issued in London, contains much valuable political information. It tells of the Parliamentary revolution begun by the Parnellites in fighting the Land Bill; the short-lived ministry of Gambetta; the French occupation of Tunis, of which the real causes are clearly set forth; the military coup-d'état in Egypt; the assassination of the Czar Alexander; the assassination of Garfield—events which made the year 1881 notable. Equally valuable are the daily chronicle of events and the obituaries. In the "Retrospect of Literature, Science, and Art," a summary is attempted for the last two provinces; but literature is treated in detail, with an attempt at independent judgment on each of a certain number of books. The text of the Land Bill of 1881 as brought in and of the act as passed are given in the appendix.

BUSINESS NOTES.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—S. V. Henkels, late with M. Thomas & Sons, auctioneers, Philadelphia, and Robert A. Tripple, publisher, have entered into partnership in the auction business. Mr. Henkels for some time past has been the auctioneer in the book department of M. Thomas & Sons, whose book sales have attracted buyers from all parts of the United States. The experience of Mr. Henkels as auctioneer, combined with that of Mr. Tripple, who has long been known in the trade, will, no doubt, insure success in this venture. They have secured handsome rooms at 1117 Chestnut Street, and will be pleased to receive consignments from the trade in books, stationery, fancy articles, etc. They make a new departure in their business by holding themselves responsible for all consignments.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—Gregory & White, booksellers and stationers, have dissolved partnership, July 28. The business will be continued by Mr. Harry Gregory at the old stand, 133 Westminster Street. Mr. Gregory will receive and pay all the debts of the late copartnership.

KAATERSKILL SERIES.

No. I.

A FAIR PHILOSOPHER.

By HENRI DAUGÉ, author of "The Georgians."

Of this author's last novel it was justly said: "Very close upon Hawthorne's best effort." This later story lacks none of the virility and power that provoked the above criticism. Will be highly popular.

The second volume of this series will be entitled:

THE MODERN HAGAR.

By CHARLES M. CLAY, author of "Baby Rue."

A distinguished littérateur to whom the MS. of this novel was submitted writes: "I am in no doubt whatever about the genuineness of this author's genius. His vigor and, above all, his breadth are as delightful as they are rare in these days of namby-pamby, watering-place, piazza romance. This is a novel of real power."

All the novels of this new series will be handsomely bound in cloth, at the uniform price of $1 each.

A Reading Diary of Modern Fiction.

Containing a representative list of the novels of the nineteenth century, preceded by suggestive remarks on novels and novel-reading.

For this purpose it presents a select list of over one thousand of the best works of modern fiction, with blank facing pages for additions or memoranda.

It is issued in 32mo (160 pages), diary style, suitable for the pocket, and is as neat and attractive in appearance as it is useful in contents and novel in plan. Retail price, paper, 25 cents; cloth, 50 cents; russia, gilt edges, $1. Orders filled by the jobbers.
